Class night will be Tuesday, May 28, at 8:00 P. M.

The twenty-fourth Annual Commencement Exercises will be held Wednesday, June 5, at 8:00 P. M. Three of the graduating Seniors will discuss the theme: "Life's Challenge to the High School Graduate." The third ranking student, Hazel Gafford, will discuss: "Our Past is a Foundation." The salutatorian, Mary Goode Mickle, will discuss: "Our Forefather's Achievement, A Challenge to the High School Graduate," and Celestine Chambers, the valedictorian, will discuss: "Today's Responsibilities, A Challenge to the High School Graduate."

Diplomas will be awarded by Richard E. Patrick, Principal.

USE SUDAN OR MILLET FOR SUMMER PASTURE

Permanent pastures need a helper during July and August.

That's the reminder from agronomists at VPI, who say that Sudan grass or pearl millet can help provide additional grazing for livestock during the critical pasture months, because these crops grow best when permanent pastures are likely to be least productive.

A third to one-half acre of sudan grass or pearl millet will usually provide enough grazing for one animal during the summer pasture slump. Lengthen the productive period of this supplemental pasture by seeding half the eacreage early and the rest a month to six weeks later. Seed from now until July 1. Either sudan or pearl millet should be ready for grazing 6 to 8 weeks later.

Mrs. Lillie Garbee and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hamner, of Lynchburg were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thornhill.

Supper guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Garrette were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Thornhill, Volney Garretto, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stanley Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thornhill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin and Raymond Martin visited Mrs. Lillie Dunaway of Nathalie Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lonnie Reynolds is receiving treatment at the Virginia Baptist Hospital. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

SPACE NEEDS FOR CHICKS OUTLINED

Chicks need plenty of floor space and feeder space and waterer space to do well. The poultry raiser who skimps on these requirments reduces his own profits, for the chicks will not live and grow at a desirable rate.

The Nutrition Council of the American Feed Manufacturers Association, has issued recommendations for brooding space and equipment for chicks.

According to the AFMA, each chick should be allowed a minimum of 7 square inches of space under the hover. For electric broodera, up to 10 square inches per chick may be needed.

The AFMA recommendations say that where chicks are brooded under individual units, 350 should be the maximum number per brooder unit. For broiler chicks, 500 chicks per unit is permissible.

As for feeder space, the recommendations are: day old through 2 weeks, 100 linear inches per 100 chicks; 3 weeks through 6 weeks, 175 linear inches per 10 0 chicks; and 7 through 12 weeks, 300 linear inches per 100 chicks.

"Linear inches" means the total inches of a hopper on both sides.

Provide 100 chicks with the following drinking space: the APMA says: day old through 2 weeks, 20 linear inches or 2 gallon or 2 gallon size fountains; and three through 12 weeks, 40 linear inches or 2 3-gallon fountains.

Additional space for both feed and water should be provided in warm weather.

Other management recommendations of the APMA include using a solid guard around the hover in cold weather (in warm weather, a wire guard).

The guard should be moved back gradually and removed completely at the end of the first week.

Play safe — drive carefully.

About The Home

By Frances Dell

Most gardeners know that all plants need three major elements for proper growth: nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash. If your soil does not contain these three elements, much of your gardening efforts will go for nothing.

Not only must these three important elements be present, they must be present in the proper amounts. Some plants require more of one element and less of another.

Growing plants absorb these elements, removing them from the soil. They must be replaced. It has been estimated that an acre of tomatoes removes from the soil about a ton of fertilizer.

There is only one sure way to find out if your soil is acid or sweet — what kind of fertilizer to use and how much. Testing your soil is the answer.

There is a soil test kit on the market that every gardener should own. It is inexpensive and easy to use. By testing you can eliminate the element of doubt in determining the fertilizer requirements of your soil. Quite often gardeners find that they are spending money on unnecesary fertilizer.

These kits test for pH (acidity or alkalinity) and tell you how to make your soil just the right pH for the particular plants you want to grow.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

"Cool hair styles for summer," was the theme for a lovely hair styling show held recently in New York.

The longer hair popular now was adaptable to many designs off the neck but not once was the hair pulled on top of the head.

The designs always featured the importance of brushing the hair away from the face. Seems this not only looks cooler but is actually cooler.

There were some short hair styles favored by older women. They employed deep, soft waves, well away from the face. There was not a tight curl in the house. Casual, natural looking waves, brushed up in back and caught in a soft bun seemed the order of the day.

As always, in a fashion show of hair styles, there were tempting colors for hair offered. These all had cool-sounding names; silver frost, cool red and fern brown. The silver frost was a lovely rinse for gray hair that gave it a silver glow. It removes any trace of yellow.

We have the usual crop of new lipstick and polish shades for summer. These are designed to be most becoming to a summer tan. They are probably no different from last summer's colors but the names are fun and you may need a new lipstick, anyway.

NEW PENSION LAW

The first measure dealing with veterans to be enacted by the new 85th Congress will become effective the first day of next month. The new law cuts off pension payments for or to any person serving a prison sentence for longer than 60 days, if the person has no dependents. This new Act is an outgrowth of a study made last year by the House Veterans' Affairs Committee in the course of which the Committee felt that there was no valid basis for paying pensions to individuals serving time for major crimes.

At the present time the Justice Department and the Veterans Administration are trying to work out a system under which the names of pensioners imprisoned for more than 60 days will be reported to the VA.

Attend some church every Sunday.

The Appomattox Lions Club will meet tonight, at Hotel Appomattox, at 6:45.

Good character development depends upon the ability to 'take it.' It requires a fairly high level of frustration tolerance. —Virginia M. Staudt.

CARD OF THANKS

To My Friends and Relatives:

I want to take this means of thanking each of you for your many deeds of love and kindness shown me during the time I was confined to my home, suffering from an accident. Your interest in me, manifested in numerous ways, brought cheer to my sick room from day to day, and I shall always remember you for your thoughtfulness.

Gratefully yours,
C. W. Smith.
